

ANOTHER LONDON MYSTERY.

WAS RUBY RUSSELL A VICTIM OF SUICIDE OR MURDER?

Young Dr. Heron, Her Foreman, Said She Might Have Taken Poison—He Looks Himself Up and Cuts His Throat.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A sensation has been caused here by the mysterious death of a former actress known as Ruby Russell, a beautiful girl who has been married to the Lyric and Drury Lane theatres. Her real name was Marianne Sharpe. For some time past she has not been seen on the stage, and it was an open secret that she was living with Youdburn Heron, an army surgeon.

Dr. Heron was recently ordered to Cambria, when he went to that station he took the girl with him. They returned to London on Sept. 3. On Tuesday last Miss Sharpe was suddenly taken sick when she was alone with Dr. Heron. A physician was summoned to attend her, but he could do nothing for her. A short time after she was taken sick she became unconscious and died. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been ill for some time. There was absolutely nothing to show her cause of death. An inquest was held on Saturday, at which Dr. Heron testified that he and Miss Sharpe had had a tiff on Tuesday afternoon and that she had threatened to kill him with a razor. He testified that she was also present at the inquest, but that he was a witness, adding that his wife had died in Jamaica in 1891. He admitted that he had been held up by the body of his wife.

Dr. Heron in the room, showed that Dr. Heron first cut his throat while standing in front of a mirror. Finding that the razor was not sharp enough to cut his throat, he turned himself on the floor. He previously arranged a vessel to catch the blood and placed a pillow under his head. He then lay down and the blood flow into the vessel. When these arrangements were completed and he had lain down he began to feel the effects of the razor. He had scolded with a pencil across a newspaper, and then he began to feel the effects of the razor. He had scolded with a pencil across a newspaper, and then he began to feel the effects of the razor.

It was reported that he left a paper in which he confessed that he murdered Miss Sharpe. When Dr. Heron was taken to the hospital he was found with a razor in his hand. He was taken to the hospital, and he was found with a razor in his hand. He was taken to the hospital, and he was found with a razor in his hand.

Miss Sharpe, who was 20 years of age, was the daughter of a publican. Her parents had not seen her for some time. She was found in the room, and she was found with a razor in her hand. She was found in the room, and she was found with a razor in her hand.

MARQUIS DE QUEMENER DE LANASCOLO.

A Military Frenchman Dies in the Little Room Where He Cooked and Slept.

A tall, portly man of dignified mien, who had passed his 50th year, came to Mrs. Innes Seckendorf at 290 West 134th street a year ago and rented a room on the top floor. He was known as "Marquis de Quemener de Lanascolo." The name he gave. He lived there a year, cooking his own meals in his room, rarely went out, and never received a visitor. The night before last he was found dead in his room, and all that could be learned about him was that he styled himself the Marquis de Quemener de Lanascolo.

He was 6 feet 2 inches in height, and weighed fully 250 pounds. His face, though not handsome, was strong, and indicated cultivation. He had a few white hairs and a short beard. He was dressed in a military uniform. He was dressed in a military uniform. He was dressed in a military uniform.

The next day his trunk and a few boxes were found in the room, and were stored in a room on the top floor. A few days after his arrival one of the servants found that he had a gas stove in his room, and then it was found that he cooked his own meals. What he ate or what he cooked is not known. He was found dead in his room, and all that could be learned about him was that he styled himself the Marquis de Quemener de Lanascolo.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES ENDANGERED.

The Details of Sunday Night's Collision of the Steamer Rosedale and the Yacht Una.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 26.—The collision between the steamer Rosedale and the yacht Una, which occurred off Matinecock Point, in Long Island Sound, on Sunday night, has resulted in the loss of two lives. The snapping of the Una's bowsprit against the steamer's paddle box, thus preventing its piercing the boilers, averted a more serious calamity. The dead are Harry Jameson, 24 years old, a sailor on the Una, who was known and recognized, and drowned, and Robert Norton, 35 years old, a fireman on the Rosedale. Norton's death was due to fracture of the skull and internal injuries. The injured are: Theodore Gregory of Bridgeport, badly cut and bruised; Scheeler, Norra, sprained wrist; Ellis, Bridgeport, bruised about the arms and legs; and several others with severe red and scratches and bruises.

The Rosedale is a wooden steamer of the Bridgeport Steamboat Company, and makes regular daily trips between this city and New York during the summer. She has been used on Sundays to take excursion parties to Connetquot, and on Sunday night, Sept. 25, she was on her way to Connetquot. There were 339 passengers on board when she left her dock at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning. The crew consisted of twenty-six men. The Rosedale started on her return trip from the foot of East Thirty-first street at 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. According to Capt. Withers, the weather was calm, but the atmosphere hazy, making it difficult to distinguish distant objects after dark. The Rosedale proceeded under a full light of steam, and the Una, which was a small motor launch, was seen by the Rosedale at a distance of about 100 yards. ## RECTOR FERGUSON RESIGNS.

He Leaves the Carpenter's Trade and is Going to Work for the World's Salvation.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 26.—The resignation of the Rev. Theodore Fergusson, rector of St. Francis' Episcopal Church in this city is attracting more than common interest owing to the circumstances under which it has been tendered. Mr. Fergusson has been in the parish more than three years, during which time he has been closely identified with the laboring people of working people, and to some extent brought them to his church. Last winter, when his church was burned, he was invited to hold his services at St. Paul's Cathedral, the aristocratic parish of the city. Here he was more out of contact than before, the result being that he was forced to resign. He is now in Syracuse, where he is engaged in the Carpenter's Trade, and is going to work for the World's Salvation.

There was nothing offensive in his remarks, but the crowd was determined to nip the movement in the bud. The police and ushers pointed by Lyons repeatedly attempted to break the crowd, but were unsuccessful. As Lyons, surrounded by an armed guard which he had behind the scenes during the evening, he was unable to move, he was taken to the county jail. Nolan was taken to the county jail. ## A RIOT IN CHRYSENE.

An Anti-Catholic Greater Union Fireman's Association, Working People, and to Some Extent Brought Them to His Church.

CHRYSENE, Sept. 26.—Never since the historical triple lynching has this place been in such a ferment of excitement as it was yesterday. The occasion was a lecture under the auspices of the American Protective Association, an anti-Catholic society organized here by men from Omaha a year ago. Lyons was the speaker. He is also a fighter. In the middle following the breaking up of the meeting he operated two six-shooters and wounded three men, one a policeman. Lyons talked for an hour with frequent interruptions. Finally the turmoil became so great that he announced a postponement. In the opening he called attention to the fact that he carried two revolvers, and was ready to use them if assaulted.

There was nothing offensive in his remarks, but the crowd was determined to nip the movement in the bud. The police and ushers pointed by Lyons repeatedly attempted to break the crowd, but were unsuccessful.
